How do these changes benefit the 2015 Barracuda?

The patented snap rail is a clever dual rail system that gives the reliability and ease of use of a snap rail with the flatness and security of an adhesive rail.

A great additional feature is the pull-out end caps that allow the snap rail to open and the self-adhesive strip to slide out. Reassuringly, those same end caps have a built in 'stop' so you'll never lose them again.

The 18mm diameter hybrid pole takes the strain out of assembling the 2015 Barracuda.

If you're not a lofty six footer worry no more! Pull the graphic up and connect onto the low level telescopic pole and then slide the telescopic pole section up to the required height and lock in place. No more struggling to reach the top of the pole or having to lean the system back to attach the graphic.

The hybrid pole also gives greater flexibility as it doesn't limit the 2015 Barracuda to a fixed graphic height; it can now be anything from 1520mm up to 2130mm.

Historically telescopic poles have been problematic but the simple cam lock removes any concern about pole slippage or lock failure. It gives total peace of mind knowing there are no thumb screws to lose or break and no complicated telescopic assembly to go wrong.
